BANKING SECTOR SUMMARY

The NGXB10 index grew 6.24% m/m in April, outperforming the ASI by 55bps amid plenty of buying interest from investors. The release of FY earnings and strong Q1 results boosted the index, with names such as FIDELITYBK (+18.75% m/m), ZENITHBANK (+9.38% m/m) and UBA (+7.14% m/m) registering significant gains after full-year results and proposed final dividends.

We have also seen some reversals in the fortunes of banking stocks amid volatility in the general equity market. This can be attributed to the rise in MPR in developed countries like US, UK and Europe amid rising inflationary pressures. Therefore, we anticipate a decline from international investors, while local investors continue to trade sentiment.
