CONSUMER GOODS SECTOR SUMMARY

From a 5.96% ytd decline at the end of Q1'22, the Consumer Goods sector has made a significant comeback in the Q2'22 period driven by revived investor sentiment towards the sector. Underpinning this sentiment, is the impressive margin performances, influenced by inflation-linked pricing hikes across sub-sectors. Specifically, with a combined average increase in margins of 11% y/y for the Jan-Mar period, the Brewers have received a larger share of the renewed investor confidence. Likewise, food and sugar producers like FLOURMILL (+24.69% ytd) and UNILEVER (+5.17% ytd) have seen their fair share of price appreciations on the back of improved Q1 bottom-line performances.

Overall, whilst we expect resilience from the consumer goods sector, the protracted impact of the Russia-Ukraine crisis on global supply chains and consequently input prices, may restrict margins in the Q2 period.
