FUND DESCRIPTION

The Vetiva Griffin 30 ETF "VG 30 ETF" is an open-ended Exchange Traded Fund managed by Vetiva Fund Managers Limited. The VG 30 ETF is designed to track the performance of the constituent companies of the NGX 30 Index and to replicate the price and yield performance of the Index.

INDEX DESCRIPTION

The NGX 30 Index comprises of the top 30 companies listed on the Nigerian Exchange Group ("NGX") in terms of market capitalization and liquidity and is a price index weighted by adjusted market capitalization.

MARKET SUMMARY

The bearish sentiment persisted in the equities market in the month of October as yields in the fixed income space continue to hinge higher on the back of the impact of the sustained hike in the Monetary Policy Rate by the Monetary Policy Committee.

Following this volatility in the equities market in the month of October, broad based losses led to a 10.58% and 9.56% decline of the NGX ASI and NGX 30 Index respectively, as the market declined further. While we anticipate a cautious trading tone in the market next month, we are likely to see demand in some of the bellwether stocks given their current prices.

On a sectoral basis, the Industrial goods sector rose by 6.50% m/m in October due to the increased buying interest in Buacement (34.62% m/m) as a result of its impressive 9M'22 results. On the flip side, the Oil and Gas sector (-5.13% m/m) led the laggards due to the negative sentiment in Seplat. While the Consumer Goods Sector was down 2.89% m/m due to the 13.53% m/m decline in Nigerian Brewery. While the Banking Sector declined by 1.10% due to the 11.56% and 3.11% m/m decline in ETI and Access bank respectively.

Looking forward, in the absence of any major positive catalyst to drive the market, we still expect cautious trading to persist in the month of October. Additionally, with major central bankers including the CBN taking a hawkish stance against inflation, further rate hikes by the MPC could further impact the equities space.
